“ All I can figure is that the good Lord had a project that couldn't wait any longer. I know you'll make sure the welds are strong and clean, if it needs to be level the bubble will be right between the lines. If there are parts that move together they fit and move just right.
I'll miss those calls discussing ideas on how to make some certain repair, debating about some piece of machinery we had seen for sale or just laughing about something we did before.
I appreciate all you did for me. Rest in Peace, God speed my friend, I'll keep in mind all you taught me until we meet again.

“ Billy as we always called him was just a young kid when we first moved to Mantua years ago. Loretta/Dave and family lived just across and down the road from us and became our family. We saw their house from our front window... Bill and Sherry were baby sitters for our girls, Shawn joining the group, and all 3 lived at our house and we at their house for many years. Loretta taught me how to cook, bake, can and how to be a good woman. Dave adored my little red head daughter Laurie and took her in his truck where ever he went, with her standing beside him and she loved him so. Sherry and Shawn were at our house daily and as they became young women also became friends. As a city girl from Cleveland and moving out to the wilderness as we thought it was way back in the 1970's was hard, but I remember fondly my first garden (and last by the way), with all of the Grimm's in shock when they saw what I had done. Loretta use to say "Child, what have you done?"....and then I realized that my 144 tomato plants were all going to grow big and have 3,000 Big Boy Tomatoes. All of the Grimm kids helped me pick way too much for any human being to handle, were always there for our family, and I watched them all grow up to be wonderful human beings. So many years ago, so many memories, and fondly remembering Billy always there to help me with so many things, along with being there when I was afraid being home alone, coming to my rescue. I can totally agree with all of the people who state what a wonderful man he was!!! He was all that and more. Years have passed, I live in NC and have grown old....But my memories of Billy and the whole Grimm clan will always be in my heart. Sherry and Shawn, I weep for all of you, but know Bill is in heaven hugging Dave and Loretta. I know he is a great loss to you both and to the many of Mantua who loved him. My love and condolences to you all, and I will never forget Bill or any of you and what you meant to my young life. You saved me so many times. I am truly and deeply sorry. God Bless you all, I love you still.
